WESTERLY'S MILITARY BALL

To be the Big Social Affair of the Season—Richard Blydenburg Confesses Cottage Burglary and Other Crimes
—Death of Patrick Roach in His 90th Year—Walter Higgins May Lose His Sight.

In preparation for the military and social event of the season, the state armory drill room has been elaborately decorated for the reception, concert and ball this (Wednesday) evening, given by the resident officers of the first artillery district, Rhode Island national guard. Lieut.-Col. Charles H. Ledward, Capt. Arthur N. Nash, ordnance officer, and Capt. Bourden A. Babcock and Lieut. Robert Thackeray, Fifth company, Westerly. The decorating has been executed by Captain Nash, noted for his excellent taste. Red, white and blue prevail, and thirty-six large American flags, 160 small flags, the Rhode Island state flag, and flags of all nations, with festoons of red, white and blue material, and many fields, form the substantial part of the decorations.

The boxes, arranged along the east side of the drill hall, are done in Turkey red, and embellished with shields and small flags. Box G will be occupied by George B. Utter and party, A. by Lieutenant Thackeray, B. by Captain Babcock, by Frank Dodge and party, C. by Frederick Fleming and Charles Hubbard, D. by Colonel Ledward, E. by Captain Nash, F. by Merton L. Stott and I. by Lewis Stanton. The four chandeliers are decorated with red, white and blue streamers and flags of all nations, and from a large bell in the center of the ceiling radiate streamers to the side walls, making a most pleasing effect. Flags are also stretched from the ceiling, suspended and festooned from the end and side walls of the drill room, and interspersed with shields and small flags in artistic style. A feature of the decorations is an electric sign with the word, "Welcome" on the front of the gallery, where Gavitt's ideal orchestra will be stationed; directly opposite is the white flag of the state. The event will draw a full dress affair, military officers and members of the national guard appearing in dress uniforms. Among the guests will be the officers of the Norwich companies of the Connecticut national guard, officers from Fort Mansfield and men of prominence in the military service of the state.

When Richard Blydenburg of Westerly ends his term of sixty days in Cranston jail for carrying a concealed weapon, he will be received by Chas. Bransfield and brought to Westerly to answer the charge of breaking and entering the Anderson cottage, near West Hill. Blydenburg has confessed the crime and Chief Bransfield has recovered from Blydenburg the goods he stole from the cottage. The accused will be held in jail until charged of burglary; for it was he who forced the window of the Anderson cottage.

Blydenburg says he was not alone in the crime, but that he was accompanied by a fellow who said he had been recently released from a Boston penal institution, whom he met in New London. This fellow did not give Blydenburg his name, but said: "Call me George; that will be good enough for you." The chap made his escape when Blydenburg was arrested Monday morning in the freight yard at Auburn.

Blydenburg says he has been with "George" for two weeks and that they have been in several criminal escapades in Westerly and vicinity. He says George is about six feet in height, smooth face and wears a brown suit of clothes. There is a leather inside pocket to the coat, in which he carries a blackjack, a jimmy and an instrument to cut out the locks of doors in places where they have entered.

Blydenburg is about 35 years of age, a resident of Westerly, and has for seven years been known as a waterfront thief. He has police records in Westerly and eastern Connecticut, and has served sentences in the two states for petty larceny and for breaking and entering.

Patrick Roach died Monday evening at his home in Garden street. He was nearly 90. He came to Westerly about 60 years ago and was for a long time employed as quarryman and teamster by the Smith Granite company. He is survived by two daughters and a son, Mrs. Cornelius J. Murphy and Mrs. James Gailigan of Westerly and James Roach of Stony Creek, Conn.

Walter Higgins, nine years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Higgins, is threatened with total blindness. The boy has been ill for several weeks with spinal meningitis and later with double pneumonia, and it was expected he would make complete recovery. His sight became defective and he gradually became worse in that respect. An eye specialist of note was summoned from New York, Tuesday, and unless there is favorable response to treatment, which he considers doubtful, the boy will become totally blind. The specialist gave very little encouragement, declaring that in his opinion it was an incurable case, and only hoped that his diagnosis would not prove true.

The father of the boy was stricken with paralysis just prior to the latter's sickness, and is now in a helpless condition.

The report of Grace Methodist church of Westerly to the Southern New England conference will be the most favorable ever submitted, mainly due to the zeal and businesslike methods of the pastor, Rev. Isaiah F. Lusk. There was a session of the official board Monday evening and it was announced that the report to the conference would show that there were no outstanding bills against the church, and a balance in the treasury, although there is an old floating debt that now amounts to $325 that will be taken care of as soon as it is possible. During the year the church has received an endowment of $1,250 from the estate of Sarah Pierce, and was never in better financial condition. There has been decided increase in membership and general church work during the year. Pastor Lusk has been in Westerly nearly four years and there is unanimous wish of his parishioners that he be returned as pastor of Grace church.

As next Sunday will be Conference Sunday, Rev. Lusk will be absent, and the pulpit will be supplied morning and evening by Rev. Clayton A. Burdick, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church. Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be conducted by William G. Williams.

At the last conference a delegation of dissatisfied members opposed the reappointment of Rev. Lusk to Grace church, but they evidently represented themselves and not the church, as no special heed was paid to their protest. Soon after his return from conference, the members of the church presented the pastor substantial tokens of their esteem and appreciation of his reassignment, and have given him the heartiest co-operation.

At the annual meeting of Christ Episcopal church, vestrymen were elected as follows: William Hoxsey, Orville Stillman, Job Thorpe, H. Hobart Babcock, David McG. Newall, Dr. Frederick C. Pogan, Frederick P. Babcock, C. H. Richmond, George W. Woodward, Thomas McKenzie, Dr. Fremont Nye, Frank Dodge and Arthur L. Perry.

William Hoxsey was chosen senior warden to succeed the late Edwin Babcock; Orville Stillman, junior warden; William Hoxsey, parish clerk; David McG. Newall, treasurer, and George W. Woodward, assistant treasurer and clerk.

William Hoxsey, Thomas McKenzie, H. H. Babcock, David McG. Newall, delegates to state convention, with Frederick P. Babcock, William Weedon, Dr. Fremont Nye, Frank Dodge, James S. Segar, alternates. The financial report showed the church to be clear of debt and a balance of over $500 in the treasury.

Edward C. Brown of Westerly died Monday evening at his home in Green man avenue, in his 65th year, after an illness of six months. Mr. Brown was employed for years by the Smith Granite company in monumental work with special reference to setting in position the finished work. He is survived by Mrs. Brown and two daughters, Mrs. George H. Bray and Miss Bertha M. Brown of Westerly. When a young man Mr. Brown made several whaling voyages, sailing with Capt. Jared S. Crandall in ship Coral, and afterwards in the merchant service with Capt. William Greenman.

Fighting the Plague
In street cars and elevated trains of New York City this sign has been displayed:

If You Have Consumption
Do not give it to others by spitting in the car. If you do not have it don't let others give it to you by spitting. Consumption is caught mainly through dry sputum. If you must spit, use your handkerchief.
Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis, 69 Schermerhorn St.

This is one of the weapons employed in the fight to prevent the spread of the great white plague. The deadly germs of tuberculosis, lurking in the mucus discharged from consumptive lungs, get into the air and are breathed into the lungs of healthy people, where, if there is any sore spot, or weakness left by a cold or other irritating disturbance, they fasten and claim another victim.
Don't neglect a cough or cold. To break up a cold quickly there is nothing so effective as the mixture of two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ounces of pure Whisky. Shake well and take a teaspoonful every four hours. It clears the throat and bronchial organs, relieves hoarseness and heals irritations of the mucous surface quickly, and because of its purity, is far preferable to the ordinary cough mixtures, many of which contain chloroform or other drug. It is claimed by the Leach Chemical Co. of Cincinnati, who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, that this mixture will break a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable.
